Engadget: 2011 Holiday Gift Guide, HDTV and Home Theater

- "Ceton's InfiniTV 4 CableCARD tuner can turn a basic PC into a DVR easily, while also allowing for endless tweaking and extra capabilities not easily found on other platforms."

Gear Live: 2011 Holiday Gift Guide

- "The Ceton InfiniTV 4 USB is one of the cooler items we're featuring in our 2011 Holiday Gift Guide. It basically turns your computer into a fully-functional live TV DVR."
- "Great for rooms where you only have a computer and no television, but also great if you want to incorporate a Mac or PC into your home theater setup, as it eliminates the need for a cable box, meaning you save on that monthly rental fee."

PC World – 4.5/5.0 Stars – November 2011

- "Bottom line: No longer limited to PCs with PCI slots, the USB-powered InfiniTV4 beats other CableCard adapters by providing four digital tuners."

Digital Media Zone – Holiday Gift Guide – December 2011

- "With this new device from Ceton you'll be getting rock solid reliability in a beautiful and tiny enclosure that can be hooked to just about anything."
- "You can now send that awful DVR you've been using back to the cable company and build a quad-tuner Windows Media Center PC and have access to premium HDTV, along with all of your music, photos, videos, and movies."

Electronic House – October 2011

- "This little box can turn pretty much any Windows 7 PC into the perfect device to pair with that big-screen setup."

Customer Reviews

Andrew H.

- “I have been a Media Center fan since the XP days and this card represented the final piece to create the perfect media center system... Simply put, it delivers on ALL of its promises.”

Kevin W.

- “This card delivers! I received one a little over a week ago and it has delivered an outstanding picture ever since...The picture the card delivered is beautiful, it records without a hiccup and you will enjoy being able to record everything you want.”

G. Lewis

- “I formerly was using two HDPVRs to record HD content. Comparatively, the InfiniTV is much more stable, has 4 streams, and in the end costs me less per month from Comcast (zero STBs).”

Nick B.

- “If you love having flexibility, features, and quality in your DVR you just can't miss by using an InfiniTV4. I've had mine for several months now, it was super easy to install, works excellently, and is just a great product. Ceton offers really great technical support - answering several questions I had before my CableCARD installation appointment very quickly and accurately.”

Steve J.

- “Installed flawlessly and works better than any other cable card tuner available. If you are building a HTPC then this card should be at the top of your build list.”
